MANASSAS, VIRGINIA 22111
HI-JACKET 1985

Sophomore Brian Galbraith is distracted from his classwork. Many students suffered the symptoms of "Back to School Blues" when school resumed in August.

Psyched! The J.V. Football players get mentally ready for action at the North Stafford pep rally.

Memories of summer sun and fun liven up senior Eric Hamm's locker.

Drivers Education is one class that no one really minds going to. Jill Reiss carefully reads about the "rules of the road."

Pep rallies bring out the best in all of us. After all, who minds missing part of sixth period?

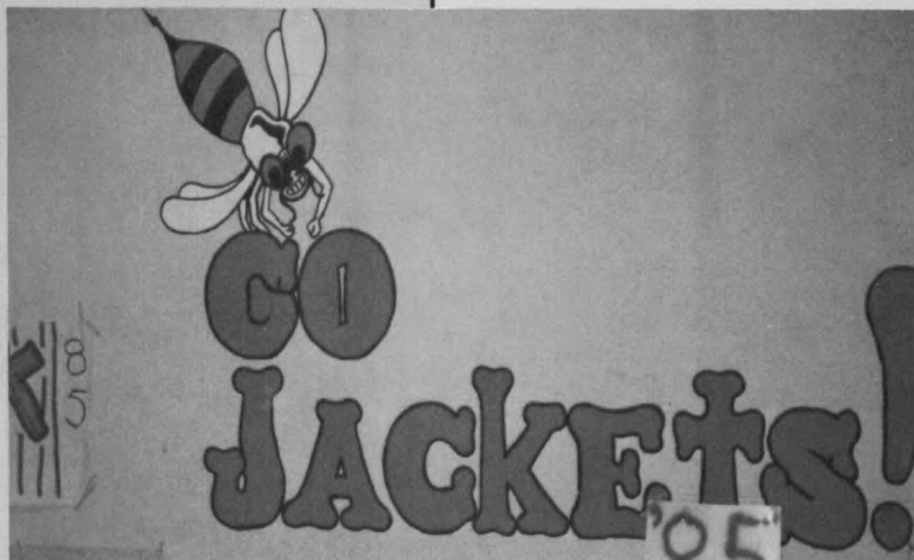

We Like What We See

WE LIKE WHAT WE SEE. Such a simple statement to sum up the year, yet together, through our friendship, loyalty, and spirit we have made it true.

We started the year full of expectations and anxieties. Turning triple A was the first step along with an increase in the student body to 2,200. Were we ready for this new standing? Together with the help of our new principal, Mr. Lynch, we pooled our strengths and spirits proving that Osbourn Park High School was a school to be reckoned with. No longer were we individuals tossed unwantingly together from all over the county. We were one, a student body whose loyalties and spirit belonged here at Osbourn Park High School. We demonstrated our pride, excelling in academics, as well as proving our strengths in athletics. The Sting Was Back!

Our school had turned 10 years old and along with it we began a new decade. Together we are one. We have created a school in our image. No longer will Osbourn Park High School have to fight to prove itself. These changes and our new attitude show it. It took time, but we have proven the definitions of friendship, loyalty, and spirit. And truly . . . We Like What We See!

Excitement shines in senior Cindy Chapman's eyes as she yells encouragement at the first pep rally of the year.

"THE JACKETS COME ALIVE IN 1985"

Togetherness. Marcia Fletcher and Thomas Keith enjoy each others company as they walk hand-in-hand through the library.

The Sting is Back

As unbelievable as it may seem, when school resumed in late August it was rumored that we had no spirit . . . supposedly the Jackets had lost their sting.

The rumor quickly disintegrated as the school year proceeded. Every Friday became a holiday, not only because we all knew there was something to look forward to that night. Blue and Gold became an increasingly familiar sight as the people outdid themselves to show their "Jacket Pride." School spirit has never been more evident. Because of new policies more pep rallies and dances were scheduled and the Marching Band frequently traveled to away games to increase team morale.

An outstanding football season erased any traces that were left of the ridiculous rumor. Attendance at the games sky-rocketed. The talent and dedication of the players gave the spectators plenty to cheer about. People wondered if there was a way to measure the piles of confetti under the stands or the volume of the fans' shouts.

Besides providing us with the chance to support our teams and school, the games gave us time to socialize and come together. A strong sense of friendship and unity made the year all the more special.

No one could ever accuse the Band of being lifeless. The enthusiastic members added to the spirit and excitement of pep rallies.

An amplifier provides support for an exhausted Mr. Perry at the North Stafford pep rally.

Have you ever thought to yourself, "What am I doing here?" Maybe that's what's on this student's mind as she's caught on camera.

Although many consider grammar to be boring, it's required to pass any level English class. Mr. Shirley and his class try to make the best of it.

Who said Chemistry had to be dull? Sophomores Mary Monroe and Mike Dillinger seem to be having an enjoyable time.

Let's hear it for the Jacket Spirit! The varsity cheerleaders spell it out for the crowd.

'88 gets involved with an impressive show of spirit.

Concentration is a necessity to do well in a science class. Brian Larch hopes that the notes he's taking will be helpful.

Looking rather studious, senior Damon Aveyra looks up from his work in the library.

Happy to get a break from their English classwork seniors Kim Alstork, Spear Bullock and the rest of Mrs. Lawrence's 2nd period class ham it up.

Seniors Eric Hamm, Pete Houtz and Tim Wilson exhibit their sparkling smiles and friendly personalities.

Spirit Week: "A Time to Remember!"

As tradition goes, Osbourn Park has always had Spirit Week as part of the Homecoming festivities. Spirit Week took place from October 22nd to October 26th. The SCA was responsible for deciding each day's theme: Monday — "Geek of the Week", Tuesday — "Fantasy Day", Wednesday — "Crib and Cradle Day", Thursday — "Sun and Surf Day", Friday — "Blue and Gold Day".

More of the students were involved this year and unexpectedly, they also seemed to really over-emphasize their costumes and accessories. Students were so involved that they actually came to school in 100% polyester on "Geek of the Week", adult size diapers and fuzzy slippers on "Crib-n-Cradle Day", lawn chairs and surfboards on "Sun and Surf Day" and on Friday, many of the students had blue and gold hairspray with make-up camouflaging their entire faces.

It was a great feeling to see so many of the students participating. Spirit Week provides a time for us to experience a change, especially in the way we dress day to day. It has always been fun to see someone tripping down the stairs with flippers on, running through the halls in a toga, or walking around in a shark's head.

Most of all, Spirit Week has always been a time to help boost school spirit and student involvement. What can be a better and more exciting way to show your spirit than dressing up and making a spectacle of yourself, which is something you wouldn't ordinarily do!

Dreams of becoming an accomplished basketball player come true for junior Paul Simpson on Fantasy Day.

Seniors Jenny Amores', Mark Welch's and Amy Pfefforkorns' fantasies differ drastically but they share a show of true spirit.

"On to the beach!" jokes senior Lori Maloney on Sun and Surf Day.

Senioritis. Sandi Harris displays her high expectations upon graduation.

Homecoming Pep Rally and Game

O.P. spirit increased at the Homecoming pep rally with roaring cheers for luck and success directed to the football team. The bleachers were filled with optimistic students and faculty. The band added to the momentum by playing "We've Got the Beat" and the "Jacket Fight Song".

The spirit stick was awarded to the Freshmen with much dismay from the other classes. Our mascot, the O.P. Yellow Jacket made its debut spreading spirit throughout the crowd.

"The pep rally helped the enthusiasm of the team," Junior Vince SanNicolas said. "It gave us more spirit."

Sandee Schatz and the school mascot cheer on the classes during the spirit stick competition.

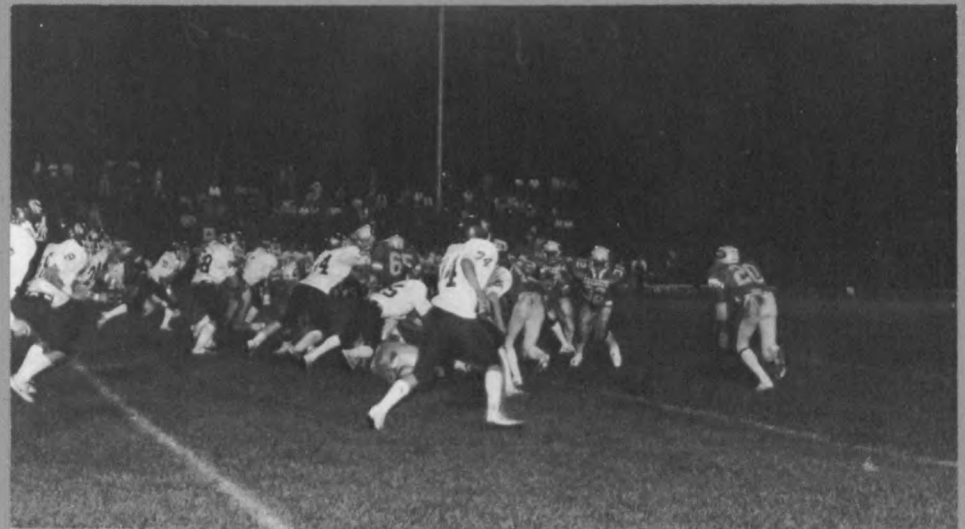

Cheering loudly, the Freshmen went on to win the spirit stick at the Homecoming pep rally.

The Juniors give their support to the football team for a Homecoming victory.

Mike Farkas cheers on the Class of '85.

The Jacket's defense waits for the time out taken by the Spartans to end, so the action can resume.

The band and the spectators cheer on the Yellow Jackets to a Homecoming victory.

The Jacket's defense holds back the Spartan's offense in the Homecoming game.

"Homecoming Extravaganza!"

Floats! After a year's absence, floats appeared again at Homecoming. Much thought and effort went into their creation. During the week preceeding the game, a large amount of time was spent designing and planning the floats, and the results proved it. For the first time in the history of OPHS, not only the classes, but clubs also submitted entries. The Grand Prize Winner was the band's float.

DECA's entry into the float competition captured the true spirit of the Homecoming theme besides capturing the second place prize.

The Junior's float depicts their interpretation of high school life.

The prize-winning float. Finishing touches were added to the Band's entry before the procession into the stadium began.

Topped off with blue and gold balloons, the Class of '86's float begins the procession onto the track.

And the Sweet Celebration

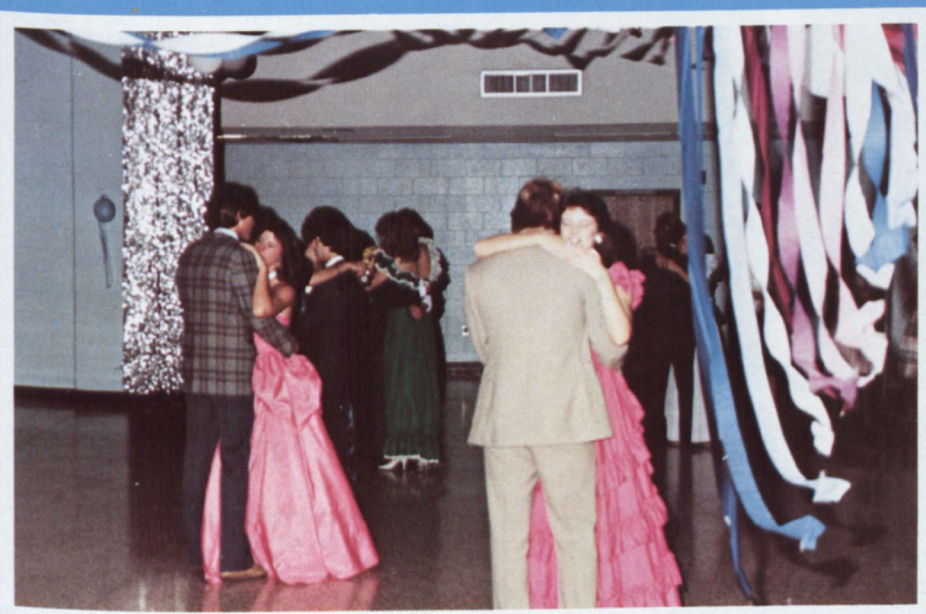

The 1984 Homecoming Dance definitely proved itself to be "A Time to Remember" as many of us flocked into school on Saturday, October 27.

Everyone was astonished to find that the cafeteria had gone through a startling metamorphosis. Couples danced under colorful streamers, balloons and shimmering "kissing columns."

A most memorable evening seemed to be enjoyed by all who attended. Excitement and contentment filled the air as couples danced, posed for pictures and conversed with one another.

The romantic atmosphere proved to be relaxing as everyone let loose and had a good time, allowing high school moments to be made.

Many couples enjoyed the romantic atmosphere that the Homecoming Dance provided.

Freshman princess Kristy Mellot and her date took advantage of the beautiful setting and danced together.

The music proved to be satisfactory as everyone let loose and danced the night away.

Softly swaying to a slow song, the Homecoming Court was delighted to dance.

Homecoming Court

October 5, 1984. Mr. Perry's voice booms loudly over the P.A. Silence blankets the classrooms as the 1984 Homecoming Court is announced, "The SCA would like to announce the Homecoming Court. Freshman princesses are Kristy Mellot and Cassie Mullinax. Sophomore princesses are Vicki Anderson and Mary Monroe. Junior princesses are Carlyn Davis and Christie Hazel. And senior princesses are Lisa Bailess, Terri Monroe and Kelly Tasker."

These princesses were selected as a result of class votes, so being nominated was quite an honor.

The moment that the student body, along with the princesses, waited for arrived on October 26 at the Homecoming Game at 9:16 p.m. The halftime festivities centered around the Homecoming court's ride around the stadium. All watched eagerly as the princesses were escorted onto the football field.

Finally the 1984 Homecoming Queen Coronation was a reality and a surprised and happy Lisa Bailess was crowned.

Waving to the Jacket crowd, Junior princesses Carlyn Davis and Christie Hazel seem to be enjoying themselves.

Freshmen princesses Kristy Mellot and Cassie Mullinax enjoy their ride around the stadium.

Princesses Carlyn Davis, Kelly Tasker and Terri Monroe await the announcement of our 1984 Homecoming Queen.

Lisa adds to the spirited atmosphere in the senior lounge by offering cake to Ben Faust and other members of the Varsity football team.

Presenting the Queen

"I was in a daze," smiled senior Lisa Bailess. "I felt so happy and surprised!", the 1984 Homecoming queen replied when asked her reaction to being crowned. She admitted that it was the most memorable event in her four years at Osbourn Park.

Lisa was a very active senior. Her senior activities alone were impressive. She held the positions of captain of the Varsity Cheerleaders and was also class treasurer. Belonging to DECA, the Varsity Club and the National Honor Society kept Lisa constantly involved with her friends and the faculty of Osbourn Park.

Her loyalty to our school was evident when she stated that, "The best things about Osbourn Park are the people."

Upon graduation Lisa leaves good advice to the underclassmen, "Be yourself and do not let others influence your decisions."

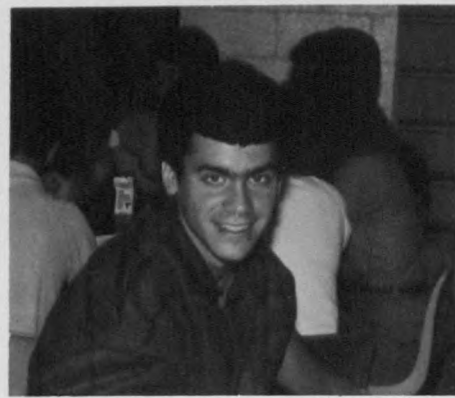

Mr. Robert Bailess poses proudly with his daughter Lisa Bailess, Homecoming Queen 1985.

Sharing a memorable moment with her father, Lisa leaves the field after being crowned.

Jackets Themselves

Class

of '85

Bonded by Spirit and Friendship

If you ask any senior when the Class of '85 was actually formed, you most likely will get the same answer: the first time we won the spirit stick. That day in the winter of 1982 was the beginning of our bond of class spirit and friendship.

We won the spirit stick at the last pep rally of our ninth grade year, the first time in Osbourn Park history for a freshman class to do so. Our thunderous reign of holding it continued through our entire sophomore year. We never tired of decorating the gym, yelling for our athletes or chanting the familiar "85, 85, 80, 80, 80-85!". In our junior year we were victorious at the first pep rally. Finally, this year, 406 strong but greatly out-numbered by the other classes, we shouted to gain the coveted honor once. This was a great accomplishment!

Our class has not been only spirited, but also extremely involved in school activities. Almost every senior is active in one or more extra-curriculars. Tom Jones stated, "Life is more than books. Activities give us a way to learn about ourselves, others and many areas of interest."

High school, like life, isn't always a "bowl of cherries" and there have been all the usual traumas to face: boyfriend/girlfriend troubles, SAT's, grades and parents. For the most part we all, often with the aid of a good friend, managed to get through tough times without going completely insane.

Friendship. What a small word, but how important it is! We've spent countless hours together studying for tests, dying of boredom in class, talking on the phone and generally trying to make the best of everything. Sure there were many different "groups" of friends but we all got along. Senior Karen Burke summed it up, "It's amazing how easily we can all be ourselves around each other. It's great!"

When you observed our class you could see and feel spirit and friendship everywhere all day long. In the morning people joked around walking in from the parking lot and congregated to talk before classes began. At lunch we ate in the senior lounge, often decorating it to celebrate victories or birthdays. Just the normal events of everyday brought many fun times.

It's been through all of these events that we've created a special and rare closeness, the same closeness that has made our past four years together so unique and unforgettable.

Senior Officers: Mark Lawson (President), Stephanie Wiand (Vice President), Sandee Shatz (Secretary), Lisa Bailess (Treasurer).

Chrissy Mitchell and Laurie Moriarty wait in anticipation for June when they'll head for Ocean City.

Before the senior lounge was re-opened after a "food fight", Julie Marsh, Richard Thompson and Mike Willem were just a few of the seniors who had to bear eating with the underclassmen in the cafeteria.

A Candid View

Mike Hines finds the filmstrip he's supposed to be watching quite dull. So in desperation he resorts to daydreaming.

The senior class attentively watches the action at the winter sports pep rally.

Sometimes history just can't hold your attention. Leslie Arrington hopes the bell will come to her rescue.

Jesse Jones proves his expert note-taking skills.

School is so thrilling! Mark Anderson, Jason Campbell and cookie connoisseur Raymond Berger could think of a million-and-one places they'd rather be.

Calculus is one of the most demanding math classes offered. Anna Massey receives some aid from Mrs. Cash.

"Eighty-five, eighty-five, eighty-eighty-eighty, eighty-five!!!" The seniors shout in the spirit stick competition.

On her way to a journalism workshop Tammi Wiggins makes the best of the long bus ride.

Helping to bring you a better yearbook, Duncan Chalmers manages to smile while doing tedious work in the yearbook office.

The juniors anxiously await the presentation of the spirit stick at the Osbourn City pep rally.

Guy Perotti and Denise DeBord posed for the camera in their Marine fatigues on fantasy day.

Our Turn Is Next

As we entered Osbourn Park three years ago, 1986 seemed to be a lifetime away. But it's already 1985 and our turn is next!

The past three years have had their "ups and downs". Every junior can relate to the new dilemmas that were faced: taking the SAT's, that little "mistake" with dad's car, and the anxieties that come with being an upperclassman. But let's not forget the good times: ordering class rings, driving to school, and an overall enjoyable year.

In these three years we've grown together and changed together. We've got a lot to show for ourselves: love, talent, and spirit are just a few of our many qualities we can be proud of.

A Sense of Belonging

There were so many advantages in becoming a sophomore. Although it was only one step up from being a freshman the difference was unbelievable. New choices in classes and extra-curricular activities seemed to be more exciting and fun to be a part of. It was a great sense of relief to find out that sophomores were socially acceptable. No longer was it unusual for upperclassmen to talk with you without looking down their noses at you as in the freshman year.

Besides socially, Sophomores moved up academically too. Many new responsibilities had to be accepted. Grades for example were to be taken more seriously and some students chose to take the PSAT's with long-range thoughts about college. Improved classroom behavior and teachers' expectations were to be fulfilled with their new sense of "maturity".

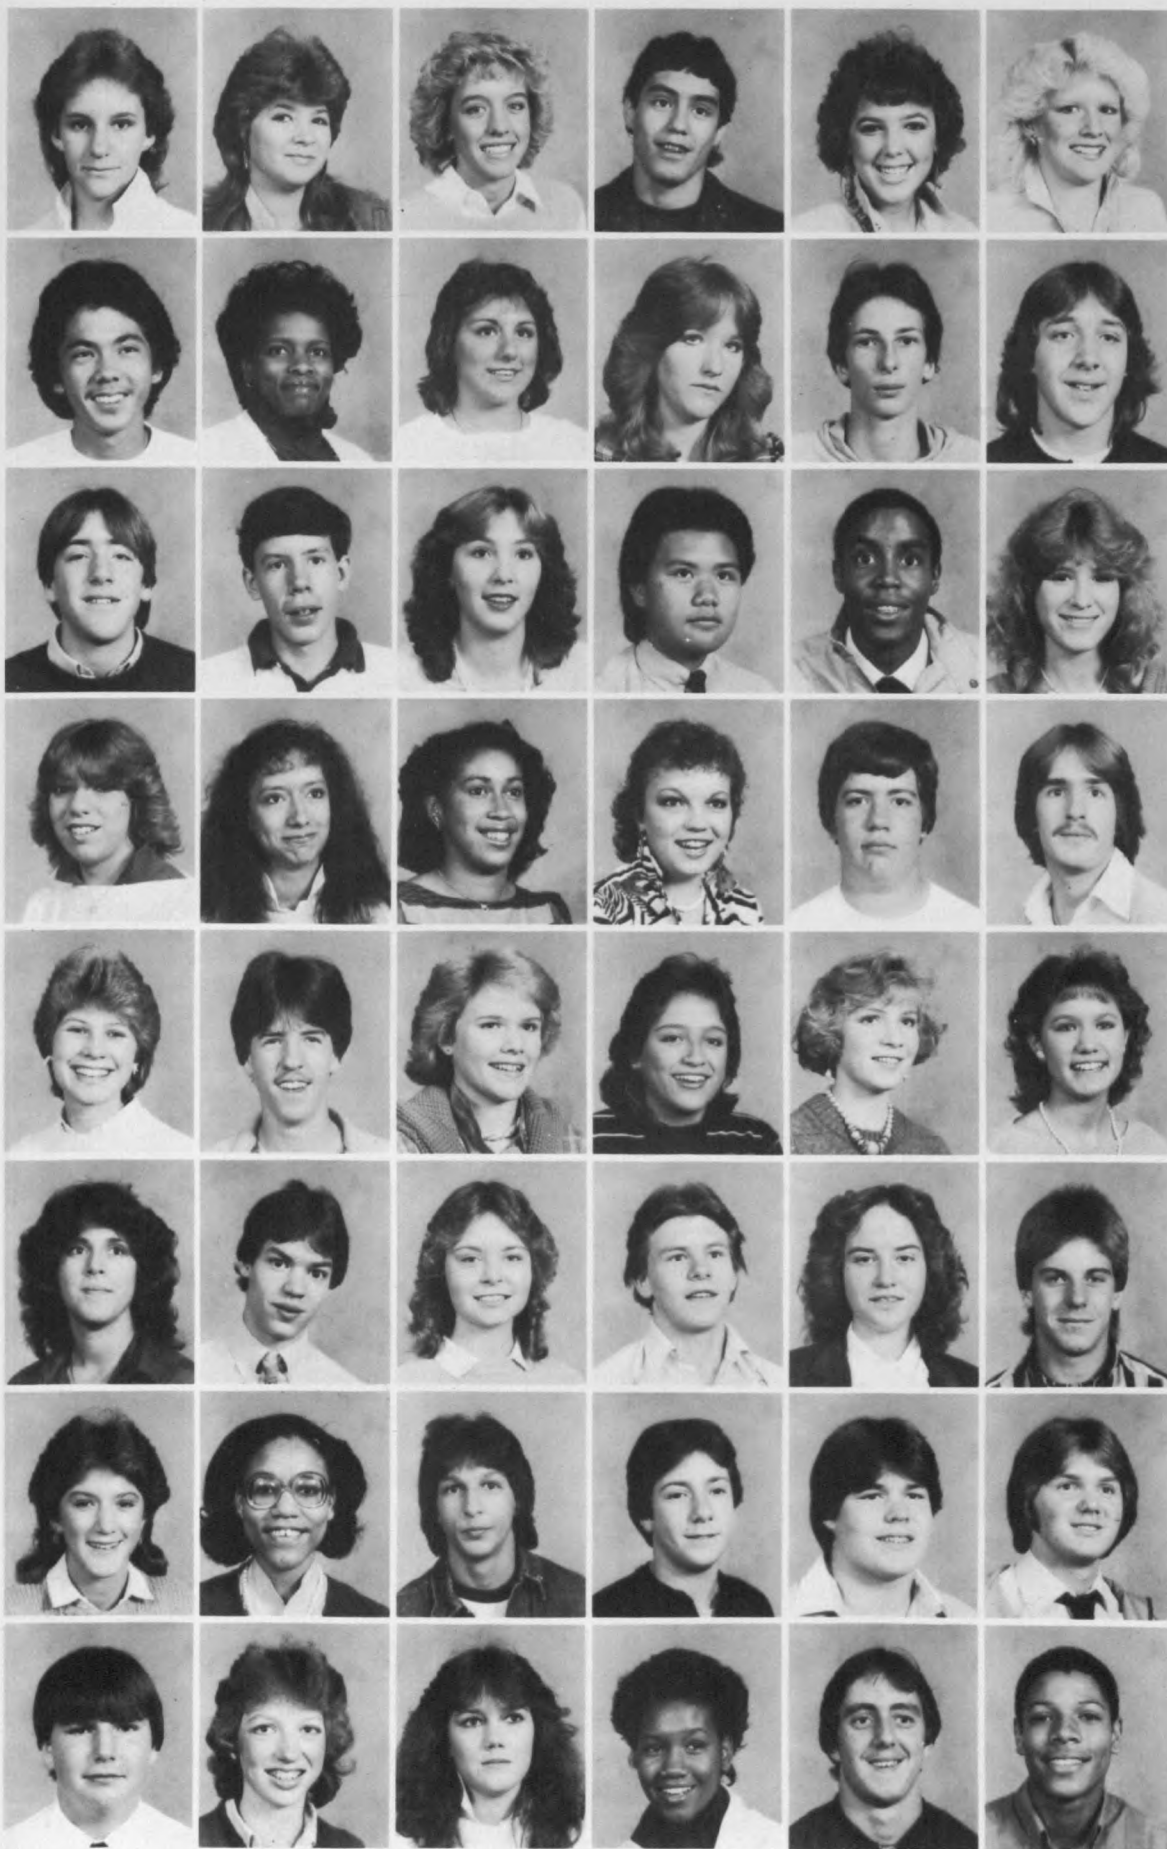

Unlike the reactions that the sophomores received as freshmen, they were able to enjoy a sense of belonging, both to the Class of '87 as well as to Osbourn Park.

BEHIND THE WHEEL

What can possibly be more traumatic than being a Frosh? How about being a Sophomore taking Driver's Education — known affectionately as "Driver's Ed." to those who passed it. It is the type of class that upperclassmen look back on and laugh while most Freshmen look upon it with dread and anxiety.

When asked, "What was the biggest fear you faced when learning to drive?" Caren Colestock answered, "Wondering how I was going to pay for the damages if I was in an accident." Ebeony Harris said, "The biggest fear I had was all the things going on around me." Danny Marsh replied jokingly "Sitting next to Mr. Colebank." Ron Amores, known for his expert skills in roadhandling confidently said, "My biggest fear when learning to drive was jumping into my red Porshe 924 and realizing that I had left my designer sunglasses at home."

Well don't let these horror stories steer you away from learning how to drive. Driving is a privilege; it plays an important part of learning responsibility and growing up as teens.

So just remember the simple rule of putting the car in park and pressing the emergency brake on before getting out and you should do just fine. With this helpful tip the course should be passed with at least a "C" and at least you won't have to chase the car down the driving range as some unfortunate students have had to do in previous years.

"Making the Best of It"

A confused little face peers into a senior English class, "Where's LA 04?" A chorus of laughter and snide remarks immediately follows as the teacher patiently and quickly guides the exasperated student to the proper classroom. This scene was common when school resumed in late August, The Class of '88, so used to being the "king of the mountain" in middle school, had to immediately adjust to their new low status in high school. And with no pity, of course, from the upperclassmen. The freshmen soon became accustomed to the line, "Well, that's a typical freshman for you!"

But after a few weeks of running to class in order not to be late, cramming down their lunches because of being shoved to the back of the lunchlines and finally giving up the search for the non-existent fourth floor pool, the "frosh" settled into the pattern of high school life. They even began to get involved in extra-curriculars and showed school spirit.

Many decided that even though the freshman year is often hectic and aggravating that they should make the best of it. By the end of the year the class of '88 could breathe a sigh of relief and look forward to advancing to the positions of sophomores.

Adjusting

As part of high school tradition the freshman class has been known to take an incredible amount of hasseling and joking from the other classes. That is just one of the many new experiences and problems that the Class of '88 had to overcome. The first year in high school was definately a period of adjustment.

Several members of the Class of '88 voiced their thoughts and opinions on the biggest differences between their life at junior high and Osbourn Park. Rod O'Conner and Christine May both agreed that high school was much larger in size and had more and various kinds of people than their junior high schools did. A dramatic change in daily routine was noted by Tony Constantino who stated, "The biggest difference was that the school day seemed to go by faster and the classes were more challenging."

Of course all the adjusting and change made for a memorable year. The freshmen had an astounding diversity in the events that they considered to be most memorable about their first year at Osbourn Park. Mike Sukeena winced, "Being called names and being teased" will be what he reflects upon years from now, while Lisa Meyel had a more positive memory, "I'll remember that it wasn't as bad as I had expected."

One of the many sports freshmen may participate in is football. Here freshman member #86 practices.

Even freshmen are allowed to enjoy themselves as proven by the many laughing, dancing groups of them that appeared at the Homecoming Dance.

Concentration is hard to maintain. This freshman attempts to make the best of what seems to be a never-ending class period.

The Varsity Choir consists mainly of freshmen-class members. Their voices were heard filling the music wing with sweet sounds during first period.

A Season of Respect

Just another mediocre football season at Osbourn Park in 1984? NO WAY!! Picked to go 2-8 in its first year in AAA, the Yellow Jackets surprised everybody, finishing 8-2, losing only to Potomac and Stonewall Jackson, both of whom went to regional playoffs.

The first game was against Stonewall, and despite great crowd support, the team hadn't started working together yet, and lost 29-3.

The team worked hard in practice, getting hyped up for Garfield. The Jackets piled up 327 yards on the ground and shocked the Indians and their fans, 35-6. This game proved to be the key to a winning season.

The next week OP was visited by the North Stafford Wolverines. The Jackets played hard-nosed football, overcoming 7 fumbles, to pull out a 17-13 victory.

At Stafford, the following week, the Indians shocked OP by going up 20-0. The Jackets dug in and scored 26 unanswered points to record its third straight victory 26-20.

Back at Osbourn Park, the Jackets pounded Commonwealth power Woodbridge, 31-0. In doing so, the highly vaunted Wing-T offense piled up 356 yards.

Still at OP, the Jacket's defense played superbly, holding the Fauquier Falcons to just 80 yards on the ground, and winning their fifth straight game 27-16, breaking the school record for straight wins.

The next week at Potomac would prove to be the biggest disappointment of the year. Both teams coming in 5-1, the winner would get the Regional Wildcard. The Panthers won their homecoming 23-0.

The Jackets worked hard all week for homecoming against Broad Run. The team highlighted the crowning of Lisa Bailless as Homecoming Queen, by beating the Spartans in a well matched game, 26-16.

OP traveled to distant Winchester to face the Colonels of James Wood. The Jackets amassed 412 yards, so thoroughly dominating the Colonels that everybody got to play. It turned out to be one of James Wood's worst beatings, 40-20.

For the final game of the season, the Yellow Jackets traveled to Osbourn High, to face our crosstown rivals, the Eagles. This proved to be the perfect example of how the team played all year. The defense held the Eagles to 7 yards rushing, and the offense scored 30 points. The game was won 40-0, due mostly to the most supportive fans in OP Football history.

The season was highlighted by breaking five school records; best record 8-2, most wins in a row, 5, widest margin of victory 40 pts., first 1000 yards rusher, Victor Cahoon 1063 yds., most tackles in a game Brian McHugh, 22. When the post-season honors came out, the Yellow Jackets had one All-State, four All-Region, eight All-District, and eight All-Area players. As a team, the Yellow Jackets finished the season as number 18 in the Washington Post's Top 20 Metropolitan Schools.

The Yellow Jackets were greatly supported by the Administration, the Faculty, and most of all, the student body. The 1984-85 season marks the beginning of a new era in Osbourn Park football.

District Champs

8-1-1. Pretty impressive record? One can bet the J.V. Jackets thought it was! It placed them in the Commonwealth District as champions. A tough defense, coached by Mr. Ensley and Mr. Jones, and an explosive offensive line proved to be an important factor in winning. Plenty of action was seen on the field as the members, led by captains John Price and David Boyleston, strived for their impressive record. Outstanding players were John Price, "the all-around leader" and Mike Coley, who led the team in quarterback sacks. But rest assured it was the whole team's effort that made a successful season a reality.

J.V. running backs are fast on their feet. Here #30 scrambles for the needed yardage to gain a first down.

Plenty of action was seen by the J.V. defense as they effectively held opposing teams' offenses back.

The First Step

A great J.V. and Varsity team have to begin somewhere and that "somewhere" just happens to be the freshman football team. Basically, the freshman team is considered the first step to perfection.

Coming together from all parts of the county, the strong freshman team played basic fundamental football.

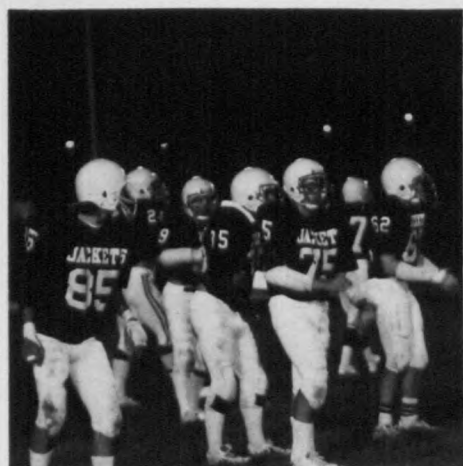

The offense was anchored by quarterbacks John Loyko and Brian Meade. Other key offensive players were running backs Chris Badillo, Pat Jenkins, Guy Keith, Andre Lessier and leading scorer Rob Jackson.

Chris Badillo and Dustin Lambert led the defense by sacking quarterbacks and scoring safeties.

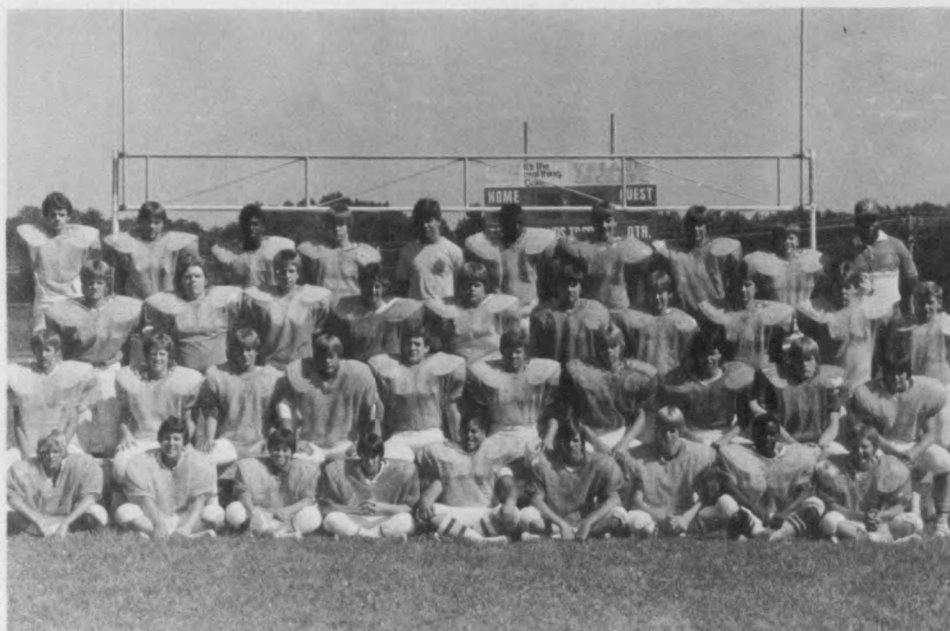

Other team members giving fine performances included Linebacker Dan Duguzmen and Safety Craig Lawhead. The team finished a successful season at 4-3-1.

With all of the coaching, advice and experience this year's members have obtained, they should prove themselves to be successful in next year's season as J.V. and Varsity players.

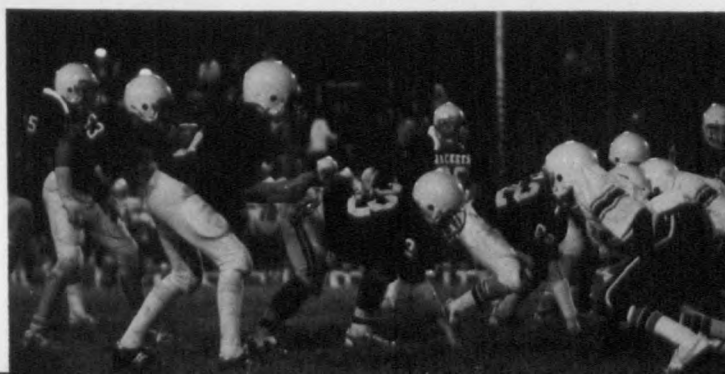

Freshman Coach Ellis carefully observes the plays carried out by his team and notes areas where improvement is needed.

The Freshmen Jackets eagerly wait for the opposing offense to take their positions.

OP's future powerhouse. The future J.V. and Varsity teams depend on the hard work and persistence of the young Jackets.

A Hard Fought Season

The 1984 Girls Varsity Volleyball team, led by co-captains Lorie Carter and Lisa Zeck, had a tough season. With the sudden change to AAA came a hard fought season and a few disappointments.

Their record of 1-8 showed that they didn't quit even when they might have felt like it. Their win to Fauquier showed that they had the potential to win, if they only had the experience. The team learned from their mistakes and played some great games.

Coached by Mrs. Dougherty and managed by Lori Fisher, Julie Harrod and Adrienne Kennedy, the girls look forward to returning next fall.

Improving Through Experience

Setting, jumping and spiking. The members of the girl's volleyball team were kept on their toes during their 4-6 season. The girls beat Commonwealth District opponents Fauquier, Stonewall and Woodbridge in their regular season for the first time in OP history at the J.V. level. Although the team was very inexperienced at the start of the season, they improved a great deal under the leadership of co-captains Jo McCabe and Kelly Flynn. Team members Jo McCabe, Kelly Flynn and Vida Esquerra moved up to Varsity competition at the end of the season. Coach Arva Priola seemed pleased with the team's overall performance. "They learned the basic skills needed to play competitively at the Varsity Level," she stated.

Ready for the Big Leagues

The freshman Volleyball team coached by Mr. Reder, finished their season with a 4-4 overall record. They gained much experience enabling them to be prepared to advance to the "big leagues" of J.V. and varsity competition in the future. A great effort was put forth by the girls; as a result they grew together and proved that they were a team.

Tennis Anyone?

In preparation for their first AAA season, the Girl's Tennis Team began practice two weeks before school resumed in August. Knowing it would be a difficult season, the girls began working hard right away. The ten member team, coached by

Ms. Clark and led by Suzi Sadler, finished their season with a 2-8 record. Mary Monroe went to Districts for singles and Shannon Tupes for doubles. We look forward to an excellent season by the girls tennis team next year.

Cross Country

What do you think of when you hear Cross Country? Running? If you ask Coach Kuhn or one of the team members of the Cross Country team, you would get an earful of answers. Cross Country is synonymous with running, but there is a lot more. It means stamina, strength and dedication. It takes all of these qualities to be on the team. It's no surprise to see that not just anyone can do it.

Boy and girl teams devoted their time to take running seriously. Most of the team members continued running from the last day of last year's out door track season on through the summer to keep in shape and prepare for the season.

During this year the teams successfully competed in the Invationals such as Handley and George Mason University along with regular school meets, Districts, Regionals and the State Championships.

Endurance. Seniors Julie Marsh and Michelle Keadle refuse to slow down even after reaching the point of exhaustion.

What Indoor Track?!

Senior Julie Myatt struggles for a first place finish.

Numerous heads turned, mostly freshmen, whenever the Indoor Track team was mentioned. "What Indoor track?!" questioned one freshman. A team member laughed good naturedly . . .

It's common knowledge at OP that an indoor track is non-existent. Nonetheless our "outdoor" Indoor Track team practiced continuously, often braving cold winds and rain to gain experience and better their performances. Many members used the season to get into shape for spring track.

The team participated impressively at various meets such as the George Mason Invitational where they competed against 50 schools from the D.C., Maryland and Virginia areas. Thomas Keith "ran away" with a trophy for his outstanding performance in the 55 meter dash. The team continued practicing with their hopes set on doing well in District, Regional and State Competitions.

Senior Natasha Fulmore concluded, "It's not so much the winning that keeps you going, it's knowing that the coaches and other team members are backing you up!"

A Stroke in the Right Direction

Lots of practice and determination resulted in the golf team's 9-5 regular season record. The impressive efforts of the members also led to their third place position in the District Tournament.

The nine member team, under the expert coaching of Mr. Foley, consisted of seniors Scott Himes, Bob Shenfish, Mike Tyson, Steve Pierce, and Frederik Almstrom.; junior Garland Faist, and sophomores Matt Himes and Carl Jensen.

Many individual accomplishments added to the overall team success. Scott Himes placed second in the District and continued on to Regional competition. Carl Jensen had the lowest stroke average during the regular season. Foreign-exchange student Frederik Almstrom was also a valuable asset to the team.

Determination and Stamina

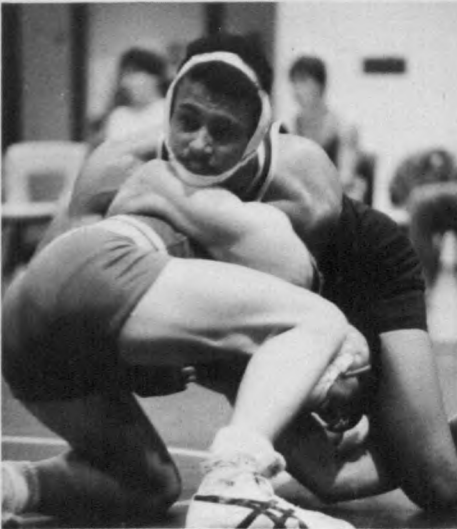

Determination and stamina. Just two qualities essential to a successful wrestler. Two qualities, the determination to win and the stamina to achieve were what Coach Mike Foley's wrestlers strived for and possessed during an accomplished season.

The team, led by senior captains James Coley, Tom Harris and Pete Moroch, grappled successfully early in the season to win the Warren County Elks Classic. Individual champions were Pete Moroch at 132 lbs., Tom Harris at 185 lbs., and James Coley. Tom and James also were individual champions at the Manassas Park Holiday Invitational. Don't think the wrestlers obtained their victories without lots of hard work. Long, sweat-filled practices had to be endured as well as continual hunger-pangs that resulted from strict diets that were followed. Finally, nerves of steel were needed before each team member took to the mat for his six-minute match.

There were trying times faced by the team during their season, yet it goes without saying that each and every member would admit that the grueling practices were worth the effort of maintaining the tradition of fine Osbourn Park wrestling performances.

Back Where We Belong

The Boys Varsity Basketball team entered its first year back into the Commonwealth District with high expectations. Although other teams may have doubted their ability, being sparked by the "OP Sixth Man" in the stands, the team proved it belonged in Triple A competition and victories by 10 to 20 point margins were not uncommon. The Jackets opened the first part of the season before the Christmas break with a 3-1 district record and were in second place.

During the Christmas holidays the 10th Annual Kiwanis Holiday Classic was held at Osbourn Park. In the final game, before a crowded gym, the Jackets faced cross-town rivals Osbourn City for the championship. The team defeated Osbourn and was awarded the trophy. Throughout the large part of the regular season which followed, the Jackets remained in second and third place in the district as they prepared for the most important District Tournament.

The Jacket team was anchored by Seniors Doug Poppe, Luther Washington, and Eric Sweeley in the inside.

Juniors Victor Cahoon, Zack Terrell and Pat Dorsey led the offense and defense at the wing guard positions and freshman Rob Jackson headed the team at point guard. Throughout the season Doug Poppe, Luther Washington and Victor Cahoon all averaged in double figures, showing the offensive strength that was with the Jacket team. Coming off the bench and adding to the strength in the line-up: Jess Jones, Michael Farkas and Andre Lacey displayed the depth of the Jacket team. Teammates Mike Trudo and Ray Gordon also saw playing action and despite the absence of transfer Scott Bass and injured Keith Bayzk during the first half of the season, they added much support throughout the year.

J.V. Boys Basketball

The members of the junior varsity basketball team gained much experience during their season. Under Coach Brown, they had an excellent season which started with winning five of their first six games. After losing three games after Christmas, the team bounced back to win three in a row to up their record to 8-4 — and the possibility of finishing second in the conference. Most of the games were won by a margin of less than five points and were close right down to the final buzzer.

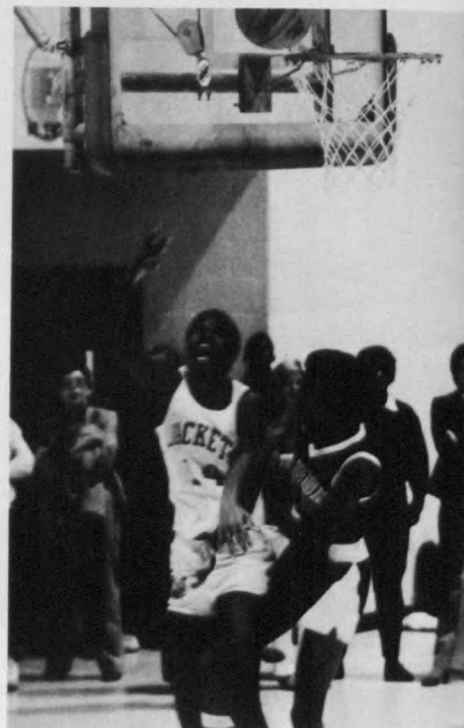

The team consisted of 10 sophomores, one junior, and one freshman. For the most part, playing time was divided among eight or nine players, each coming in off the bench to contribute to the victories.

Strong defensive players were Kevin Bowens, Bert Sullivan, John Rusciollelli, Eric Lightner, and Jon Rothfolk. Those players who contributed greatly to the offensive effort as excellent shooters were Mark Fields, Brian Burke, Marc Tasker, Steve Trudo, and Alan Evans. The offense was controlled by the ball-handling skills of Mike Bowie and David Knight.

This was a team that gained a great deal of experience as the season progressed and all of the players improved considerably.

The team's successful season was due in part to the efforts of Chris Dorsey and Kevin Jersey and to the high scoring of Ricky Daniels and Jimmy Craig. Kevin Williams was also cited for his outstanding defensive effort. The boys were under the coaching of Mr. Ellis. Because of the talented player's efforts and their co-operation with one another, an overall winning season occurred.

Rebuilding

A tradition of excellence. The Lady Jackets Basketball Team under diligent coaching of Ken Kreiger has had a history of success and victory for many years. However, tradition and excellence needs a foundation. The Lady Jackets, a team composed mainly of underclassmen, focused on rebuilding during their season. Steady improvement occurred over the season, as they practiced and gained game experience. The Lady Jackets are looking to the future for more years of victory.

First in District

15-1. A successful record achieved by a successful Junior Varsity team. The Lady Jackets obtained their first standing in the District by lots of practice and a strong desire to win.

The team members, including four freshmen and four sophomores, learned early in the season that team spirit benefitted their playing game. It was through spirit that the girls were able to shock District teams such as Woodbridge by pulling together and winning most games by 10 or more points.

The team was led by scorers Betty Stefko and Nicki Lake, leading rebounders Lina Robson and co-captain Cheryl Baxter. Other key players were co-captain Maura Keenan, Kristen Young, Nicole Adams, and Jo McCabe.

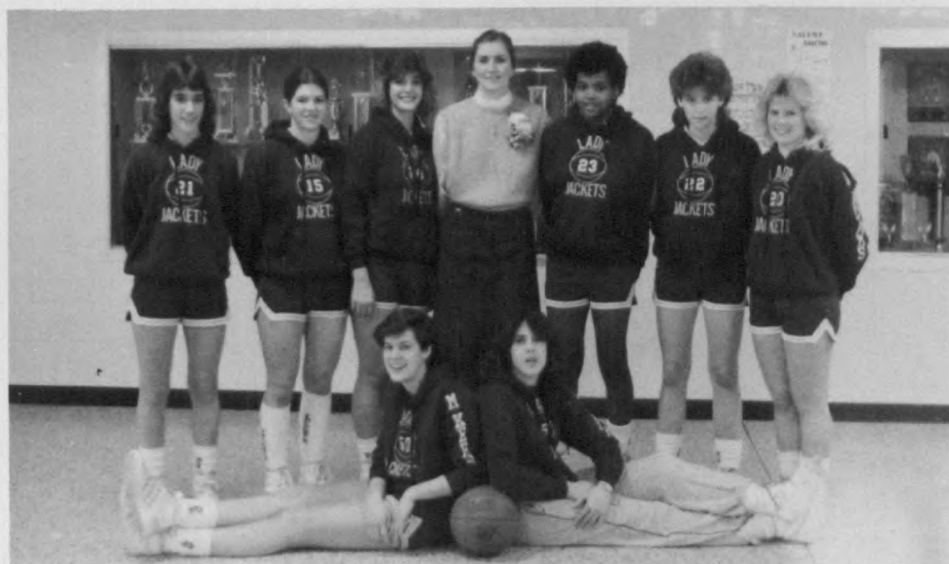

The girls gave their coach credit for their outstanding season. "We wouldn't be such a great team if it wasn't for our great coach," stated freshmen Nicki Lake. Mary Rankin had her first year of Osbourn Park coaching experience with the Lady Jackets.

A combination of team spirit, desire to win and skill led the J.V. team to a successful and memorable season.

Gaining Experience

The freshman girls basketball team underwent a tough season, finishing with a record of 3-8. Although their record does not show it, the girls did win the necessary experience to move on to the J.V. and Varsity squads.

The young team, through thick and thin, never gave up. They continued to make great efforts throughout the season despite their disappointing record. The players all performed impressively. Center Terri Linder was the inside shooter. Forward Lisa Davis was the team outside shooter and high scorer. Guard Stephanie Junsen was the playmaker and Guard Angel Posey was an exceptional defensive player.

After a very trying season the team members could look back on their efforts and be proud of all they accomplished.

Cheering the Jackets On

They stood front and center at pep rallies and football and basketball games, directing the crowds in cheers and amazing us with various stunts and jumps . . . who were these peppy girls? The OP Cheerleaders of course! As a spectator, one may have asked, "What exactly does it take to be a cheerleader?" The answer was fairly clear when Varsity squads were observed at their best. Each girl was devoted to being spirited, had a friendly smile, an outgoing personality and a loud, clear voice. Their clapping hands and loud chants and cheers generated spirit and made us support our teams all the more.

Support and Spirit

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders showed their support and spirit this year with excellent performances at J. V. Football and Basketball games.

This year's squad was led by returning cheerleaders, captains Dianne Berger, Yvonne Powell, and Vicki Anderson.

It was the first year of cheering experience for Mandy Franks, Lisa Gluefling, and sponsor, Miss Stoegbauer, who were welcomed additions to this competitive group of dedicated leaders.

Uniting '88

The freshman cheerleaders worked together very well to unite the class of "88". The transition from junior high to high school is challenging enough, but to try out for freshman cheerleading and get a workable squad together, in a short period of time is commendable.

The squad was led by captain Michelle Todd. Other members were Kelly Carter, Beth Goldsberry, Mollie Watts, Lorie Conrad, Cindy Cole, Shirley Hopkins and Jennifer Cobb.

Teamwork and Friendship Leads to State Title

Webster's defines gymnastics as "a competitive sport in which individuals perform optional and prescribed acrobatic feats mostly on special apparatus in order to demonstrate strength, balance, and body control." The girls gymnastics team, under the expert coaching of Jo Ellen Suter and Lynn Croushorn, lived up to this definition. The team members led by captains Pam Posey and Laurie King knew that their sport required lots of practice, dedication, stamina and actual love of the sport itself. Each girl possessed these traits.

The team had the advantage of having some returning "veterans" including senior Angie Fontana who was the State AA Champion in the All-Around category last season. With the addition of some new outstanding freshmen, Missy Sokol, Christie Melhorn and Lori Mullinax, a strong competitive team was formed.

The long hard practices and nerve-racking meets led to a special spirit shared by the girls. It was that same spirit that unified them and led them to an overall successful season.

"We knew that we would have to go for the state title this year because of the potential of our members," commented Coach Suter.

The girls were top-rated in the District throughout the season and placed second in District competition. "We were strong on bars and weak on beam all through the entire season but especially in Districts," stated Coach Suter.

The team went on to take the Regional title, and on February 22 and 23 at Robinson High School they won the first state championship in school history. Freshman Missy Sokol walked away as the 1984 All-Around State AAA Champion.

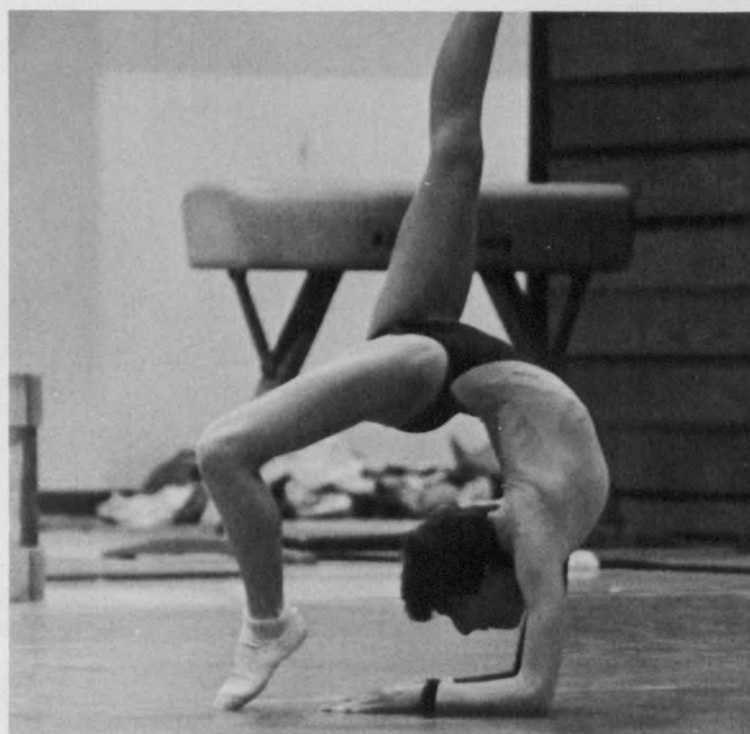

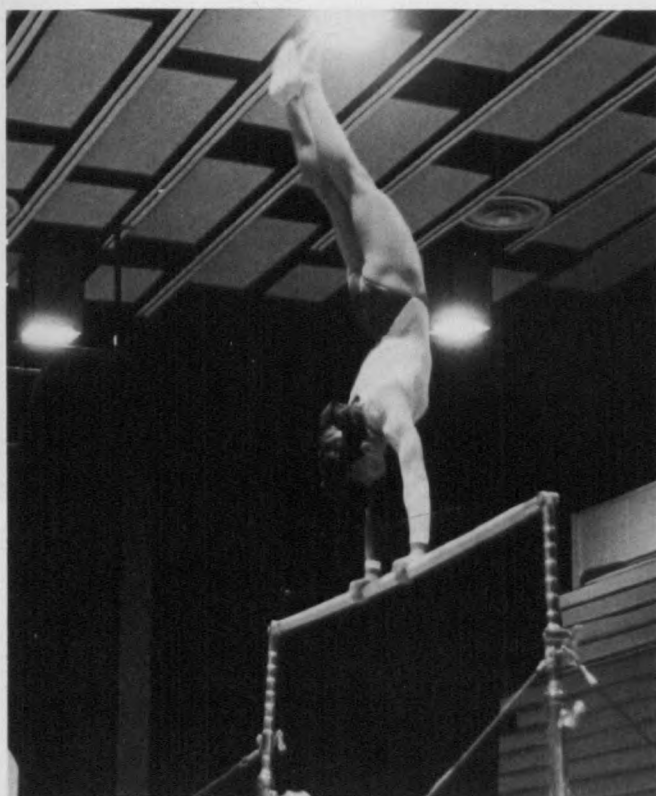

"I have always told my girls to go out there and do your best, and most of all have fun doing it!" concluded a proud Coach Suter.

Variety is the spice of life. At least the Stage Band and its "fans" believe so. The Stage Band is a group of jazz musicians who liven up school concerts and the Miss OP Pageant with a variety of musical pieces including jazz, jazz-rock and big band selections. The Band consists of trombone, trumpet, saxophone, piano, bass, guitar and drum players. The members' impressive performances, due to diligent practice, added excitement to many concerts.

A Magical Transformation

Every Wednesday and Thursday in the fall, the student parking lot was the site of a ninety-person congregation. The ninety people were seen rhythmically marching around in various formations including lines, diagonals and the "dreaded" arc in preparation for Friday night performances on the football field.

With the help of a new administration and director Don Carnohan, the Marching Band attended many away football games in addition to the home games.

The Monday after the end of the football season . . . the same band magically transformed into a prestigious Symphonic Band. Winning eleven superior ratings in the District Festivals polished up the Christmas and Spring Concerts as well as the other various music festivals at which they performed.

Orchestra

Recognizable talent: there was much evidence of it in the Orchestra. Actually, there were three orchestral groups: The Chamber Ensemble, the String Orchestra and the Symphony Orchestra.

The Annual All-Baroque Concert impressively began the Orchestra's performing year on November 13. Members then practiced for the December 18 Christmas Concert. March 22 was Festival. The Spring Concert date was set for May 30 and various elementary school performances were given.

Although all members contributed greatly to a successful series of concerts, certain students gained special recognition. Paula Jones, Beth Cyr and Sam Phillips were appointed to the 1984 Senior Regional Orchestra. Gerry Brann, Judy Davie, Paul Busdiecker, Kevin Cunningham, Albert Raucht and Valerie Richards were 1984 Junior Regional Orchestra Members.

Freshmen and interested students without previous singing experience comprised the Varsity Choir. Mr. Council worked his singers hard, trying to develop new talent, knowing that many members would advance to Concert Choir next year and maybe even Madrigals eventually.

The Varsity Choir presented a Christmas Concert, participated in Festival and helped with the Madrigal Feast acting as "wenches" and "pages" in order to earn points toward their music letters.

Concert Choir

It's 2nd period and behind the doors leading to the music wing you can hear quite a few voices warming up to scales being played on the piano.

The Concert Choir, once again under the direction of Mr. Council, had quite a busy year. The members got down to business right after school resumed in August in order to be prepared for their Fall concert, "A Grand Night for Singing." Practice continued for the annual Christmas Concert with the added attraction of special guest singer Mr.

Vince Tassa who sang an opera selection. The members also held a spring concert to end their performing year.

The choir also elected officers because they desired representation and wanted to establish leadership. President Stephanie Wiand, Vice President Brian Terrant, Secretary Marc Gatlin and Historians Leslie Adams and Donna Goodwin handled various business such as organizing volunteers for certain activities and sponsoring a Miss Osbourn Park contestant.

Ye Madrigal Singers

The smell of pine and wassail wafted out of the cafeteria, which once again had been imaginatively changed into a Medieval banquet hall. Feudal flags from days of yesteryear hung majestically from the ceiling. Cedar and pine were strung artistically around the entire room. Wenches and pages scurried around seating guests and serving a feast fit for royalty.

Amidst all of this an extremely talented group of lords, ladies, and jesters, known as the Madrigals, performed in an authentic Renaissance style much to pleasure of their audience.

Due to the continuous preparation by the singers, coordination by Mr. Council, Ms. Romanic, and Ms. Weber and help of student and parent volunteers, the Annual Christmas Madrigal Feast was once again a smashing success.

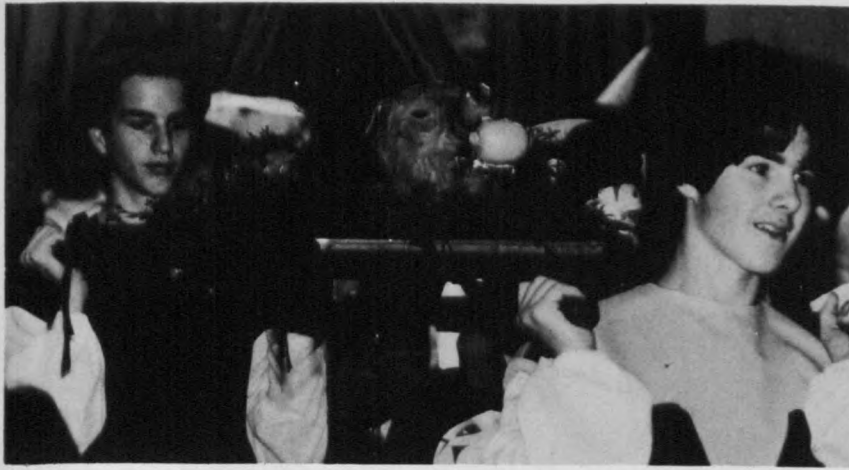

Lord Tony Jones satisfies the hunger he has worked up singing by savoring the delectable feast placed before him.

All decked out in his appropriate medieval garb, Mr. Council, mentor of the Madrigals, looks on to the action of the feast.

Getting It Together

"Flags Flying at Half Mast" was an editorial by Flag Jane Reedy that appeared in the first Yellow Jacket that came out in fall. Although the Flags got off to a slow start because of lack of interest, they managed to get it together. The girls proved to be a great asset to the marching band. They added color and movement to the lively sounds that were played. The continuous practice and concentration that was required paid off after the completion of the many perfect routines that they performed during the football season.

Twirling in Time

The smiling faces of Judy Magnigle, Lisa Ledford and Faith Whitmer always appeared in front of the marching band. These three talented majorettes added much enjoyment to the usual pre-game and half-time activities during football season. They performed high-stepping and complex routines that entertained the crowd. Their talent and hard work kept them twirling in time to the band's music and their true spirit made them a special addition to the field.

Majorettes. Lisa Ledford, Judy Magnigle (captain), Faith Whitmer.

Sparkling smiles, blue and gold gloved hands, marching feet . . . these were all characteristics of the Pom Poms. The squad consisted of fifteen girls. Four year members were Cindy Attisson, Kim Korpics, and co-captain Stephanie Wiand. Third year members were captain Sandy Robinson and Kara Sharp. Second year members included Cher Ghadban, Tracey Holupka, secretary Dawn Marinoff and Laurie Tetrault. New squad members were Selina Kern, Kristina Leitner, Mona Miller, Laurie Moriarty, Donna O'Conner and Desiree Thompson.

A lot of work was put in by the squad to make our school more spirited. Being on Pom Poms required every girl to be well-coordinated and hard working. Each member took on the responsibility of attending summer and after school practices, learning difficult routines and keeping up their grades all at the same time. Kim Korpics commented, "Pom Poms is time consuming. It's difficult when you're tired from a hard practice and you've got homework to face."

The Pom Poms admitted that they tried to promote spirit and represent OP the best they could. This was definately apparent by the squad's smiles and enthusiasm.

Drama Reflects Life's Emotions

Acting ability and lots of fast-moving action. The talented drama club members had plenty of both. The students performed three one-act plays in the fall. The plays, much enjoyed by those who attended, were "The Caged Birds", "The Claw", and "The Brute".

Students were astonished by the off-the-wall flavor of "The Caged Birds" which centered around the theme of peoples' insecurities in the real world. It was voted by the audience to be presented on February 23rd at the District Drama Festival at North Stafford. "The Claw" and "The Brute" also possessed powerful themes.

It can be honestly stated that the Drama members effectively acted to their fullest potential in reflecting life's emotions.

Forensics and Debate

The Forensics and Debate Club gave students an opportunity to develop their public speaking, and debating skills and to compete with other schools. Club members joined in on several tournaments and sponsored a school-wide forensics competition.

Club officers were President Leslie Arrington, Vice-President Alan Rostron, Secretary Julie Cook and Treasurer Jeanne Maloney.

Virginia High School League Tournament Medalists from last year returned to give the team added depth. Combining their experience with the talent of the newer members allowed continued success in both forensics and debate.

SCA Works to Better OP

"At first I thought it would be easy to handle SCA matters, but when we started working on all our projects I knew it would be time-consuming and not so easy," stated President Jennifer Amores.

The SCA officers and representatives began the new school year almost a month before the rest of us, mailing student schedules out and preparing the agenda for Freshman Orientation.

"A Time for Us to Remember" proved to be a huge success. The SCA chose the Homecoming theme because of such changes as turning AAA and the winning football record. Spirit Week and the annual dance were much enjoyed.

The members continued working on such matters as tallying class officers and sponsoring after-game dances and planting trees for their school beautification project.

A Teacher Appreciation Breakfast was hosted by them in January to let our teachers know that some of us really do care and are thankful for them.

"Compu-Cupid" was a new and successful fundraiser that took place for Valentine's Day. The SCA provided questionnaires for students to fill out according to their interests in the opposite sex. Then for the fee of one dollar, participants received a list of the ten most compatible members of the opposite sex that took part in the survey. Everyone was quite amused with the computer's results.

"When you see the final outcome of your work and how beneficial SCA is to OP, you know the work is worth it."

National Honor Society

Scholarship, Character, Leadership and Service. These are the four qualities that all members of the National Honor Society must exhibit. By becoming a member of this society, the student has taken on the responsibility of promoting the need to develop a good character in his peers and himself. Under the leadership of sponsors Ms. Hooker and Mr. Deleonardis, the Society sponsored fund raisers to obtain money for scholarships and to improve the library's supplies. The officers for the year were; President Leslie Arrington, Vice-President Bill Rusciolleli, Secretary Chrissy Mitchell, and Treasurer Michael Farkas. The Society's goal this year was to become a more active service club and to involve all members in the activities of the club. — By Leslie Arrington

Results Stem from Camaraderie

On a chilly Saturday in the fall, Mr. Huddleston boarded a school bus with his Yellow Jacket staff. Destination: The Virginia High School League Workshop at the University of Virginia. The excursion, referred to as "quite radical" by one of the staff members, proved to be beneficial, as many refreshing ideas were discovered. The staff returned to Manassas brimming with original ideas for their monthly publication. They shared a new confidence about their journalistic abilities.

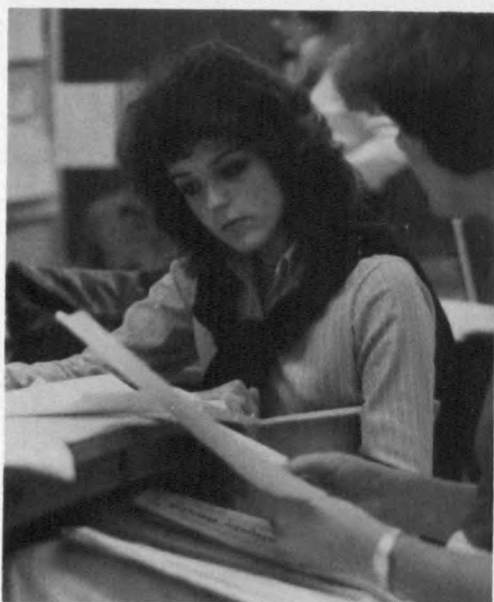

The 5th period Journalism II class very rarely suffered from a dull moment. How many classes do you know where a teacher would allow himself to be handcuffed to the class clown? Or a heated discussion would result in the proverb "You're just a flea on the bear of life"? These were just a sampling of the many off-the-wall happenings that led to the camaraderie between the staff members and their advisor.

Amidst all of the chatter, puns and general pandemonium, the staff along with their "brave and fearless leader", seemed to obtain outstanding results in each issue of the paper. Once again proving, as in past years, that an informal atmosphere leads to journalistic success... at least at Osbourn Park it does!

Introducing the Leos

The once all-female upperclassmen club, the Lionettes, underwent a drastic change by allowing males and underclassmen to join their service club. With the change came the new name, Leos.

The Leos continued the initiation tradition of members being dressed as felines for a day but no male students showed an interest in joining.

As a branch of the Manassas Lion's Club, the Leos performed service projects for the school and community. Their activities included helping with Operation Turkey, a food collection held at Thanksgiving for the Salvation Army, a candy sale in February to provide funds for senior scholarships, and many visits to the elderly at Annaburg Manor.

The Leos were under the guidance of sponsor Mrs. Cannon, and the leadership of President Angie McGuinn, Vice-President Janine Loyko, Secretary Chrissy Mitchell, and Treasurer Julie Cook.

Key Club: Co-Ed!

Key Clubber Sam Phillips talks to a student about signing up to donate blood in the drive which they sponsored.

A major change that the once all-male Key Club faced was the acceptance of females into the club. "Girls were voted in by an overwhelming majority," said member Sam Phillips.

The club maintained its traditional high standards of admitting only those recommended by teachers or by many other club members. All applicants were required to be hard working, have a giving attitude and above average grades.

Mr. Payne served as the club's sponsor. Officers were: President Jason Janet, Vice-President Charles Montague, Secretary Matt Simmons, Treasurer Erik Kirby, and Sergeant at Arms Pat Dorsey. Scott Peet acted as community spokesman.

Among its activities, the Key Club sponsored the Blood Mobile, served as guides at freshman orientation, back to school night and college night, assisted with the "Help Hotline" and worked with SERVE.

Business is Their Business

The main purpose of FBLA is to provide information to students who are interested in pursuing careers in the business world.

The club began the year's activities by attending a conference to introduce them to the FBLA organization. In December, the club collected canned food for the needy, for their Christmas service project. The members listened attentively as a guest speaker from the Fort Belvoir Civilian Personnel explained prospective job opportunities with the government and another speaker, Mrs. Doris Sullivan explained professionalism.

Fund-raising projects occurred to obtain needed money to support the Association for the Study of Childhood Cancer and to buy carnations for our school secretaries on Secretaries Day in April.

In February, the members gave presentations at Manassas Mall during FBLA Week to inform people about the Osbourn Park Chapter.

Finally, in the Spring a conference was attended by certain members who competed for local and state recognition in such areas as business law, clerical typing, stenography, accounting and data processing.

The FBLA officers were President Cyndi Fritter, Vice-President Mitzi Blackwell, Treasurer Spear Bullock, Secretary Donna Bowie, Historian Jana Thurston, and Parliamentarian Karen Boyd.

Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America consisted of class members enrolled in Ms. Hubbard's Home Economics and Child Development classes. The members proved to learn much about home life in order to better understand and improve their personal lives. The members held a Halloween party and a Christmas tea for teachers and parents. Members also took part in the Spring Fashion show where they modeled fashions that they made themselves.

Preparing for Their Futures

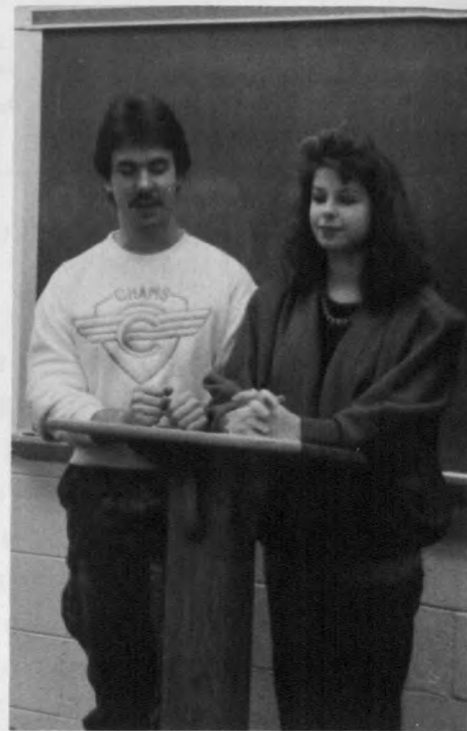

DECA, Distributive Education Clubs of America, is a program designed to help students prepare for their future careers in the field of marketing and distribution.

The DECA officers were President Nelson Bordeaux, Executive Vice-President Amanda Hagood, Secretary/Treasurer Cindy Attkisson, Reporter Scott Dotson and Photographer Rusty Deeb. Class Representatives were Cindy Anderson, Keith Babler, Vicki McLaughlin, Kristy Shertz, Dianne Welch and Tim Wilson.

The officers and representatives attended a leadership workshop in the fall to prepare for the year's curriculum.

Members were kept busy with various activities including a field trip to Philadelphia, various fund raisers, their Homecoming float entry, district and state DECA competitions, the organization of the spring fashion show, the sponsoring of a dance and trips to middle schools to explain DECA.

Tending to important DECA matters, President Nelson Bordeaux and Vice-President Amanda Hagood get down to some serious business.

The World of Work

VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, is a nationwide organization serving students enrolled in industrial, technical and health occupation programs. Why do the students join? Because VICA members know they receive recognition for their work. They make a difference in their school, their community and with industry. The members of VICA are proud of what they are doing and what they have while they do it.

Providing A Positive Influence

Teen Counseling is an organization made up of juniors and seniors who act as positive role models for fifth and sixth graders. Twice monthly each team of counselors meets with their assigned class at Parkside Middle or Yorkshire Elementary for a 30-minute session.

The program is designed to provide information to the student about drug abuse and gives them the chance to ask questions about growing up in general, questions that they might not feel comfortable asking their teachers or parents.

Interested juniors and seniors applied last year to be admitted. All members must maintain a 3.0 average and needed three teacher recommendations.

Many topics were discussed during the year including drug and alcohol abuse, peer pressure, high school activities, rights and responsibilities, and general problems of the students' age group. "I really liked talking with the kids," stated Senior Sandy Robinson, "helping them out makes me feel useful and pretty good inside."

Junior Rob Catron and Senior Stephanie Curling discuss problems with their groups of fifth graders from Yorkshire Elementary school.

SADD

During Youth Appreciation Week, the OP Chapter of SADD under faculty advisor Zelma Darden and parent advisor Leah Lewis, was presented with a certificate of appreciation by the Optimist Club. The club members, numbering over 200, were commended for their stand against drunk driving and their contribution to the local community.

Club officers were elected on October 25; Kelly Abruzere was chosen as president, Ebeony Harris Secretary, Georgeanne Wilson Treasurer, Gary Talbott Activities Coordinator and Reporter Janine Loyko.

Many activities made for a productive year. Two members attended the 2nd Annual Regional Youth Conference in Washington D.C. on October 27. A student assembly was held on December 17, with scared stiff in which the student body was educated on the dangers of driving after the consumption of alcohol and other drugs. Member Carlyn Davis and Leah Lewis lectured the Drivers' Ed classes on the dangers of driving under the influence. A Valentines Day Dance was sponsored by the club on February 23. The club's final activity for the year was another informative program before Graduation and Prom.

Due to all the student support and adult sponsorship, Students Against Drunk Driving had a commendable year.

Spreading Jacket Fever

Osborn Park had finally established a Spirit Club it could proudly boast about. Under the guidance of Mrs. Lawrence, the Spirit Club consisted of a considerable number of active members. The members met every Monday to discuss upcoming school activities. They made posters to announce athletic events and spirit buttons for team members to wear on game days.

Thanks to the pep and enthusiasm of each club member, an epidemic of school spirit began. It seemed as though everyone had been bitten by the bug . . . we were all victims of the spreading "Jacket Fever."

Our school mascot made its welcomed debut in October thanks to the creativity and talent of costume designer Madeline Turner.

They're Not Just A Bunch of Jocks

The large increase in membership spoke well for the Varsity Club. The Club consisted of OP athletes who had varsity letters to their credits. The members met to organize their ideas for club-sponsored events under the leadership of their officers; President Julie Marsh, Vice-President Wendy Adams, Secretary Jennifer Kaedle, Treasurer Michelle Kaedle and Sergeant at Arms John Gonzales.

The club once again sponsored the Powder Puff Football Game where the senior girls were victorious over the juniors, the student body vs. the faculty in basketball and the annual Athletic Awards Banquet.

All funds that were raised were put toward the purchase of varsity letters, certificates, and various trophies and awards for deserving athletes.

The Varsity Club proved that they weren't just a "bunch of jocks", but students who were genuinely interested in promoting school spirit and commending athletes who desired recognition for their efforts.

The "Culture Club"

The Foreign Language Club definately proved to be Osbourn Park's "Culture Club". Each month was dedicated to one language that would plan an activity in which members could learn more about other foreign languages besides the one or sometimes two languages they studied themselves. Oktoberfest, Saturnalia and Mardi Gras were three major celebrations members took part in. A special meeting was held for guest speaker Mark Dumont who was a Belgian foreign exchange student. Besides basic organizational meetings that were held, a pin banquet and a club picnic were scheduled for the Spring.

The clubs large membership initiated the need for dedicated officers and language representatives. The officers and representatives often met to coordinate and organize special activities. President Eric Hamm, Vice President Donna O'Connor, Secretary Kim Korpics, and Treasurer Tracey Holupka along with representatives Angie McGuinn, Lisa Zech, Beth Cunningham and Bridgette Hargadine all strived to meet the club members interests in learning more about foreign cultures.

Back on Track

In Print is Osbourn Park's literary magazine which includes collections of essays, short stories, poetry, photography and drawings by our students. 1985 is the second year for this publication following an absence of several years.

Under the supervision of Mr. Shirley, the staff, including editors Linda Sharkey and Veronica Himes, created two literary issues. The first issue was a calendar consisting of twelve months of essays, poetry, short stories and drawings. Following the publication of the second issue, it was forwarded to be evaluated by the Virginia High School League.

Rob Moser perfects one of his sketches that will appear in an issue of "In Print."

Math Club

Free tutoring, run completely by capable math students was a big success with parents and students in the Math Club's first year. Tutoring sessions were held for all levels of mathematics once a week. The club members met twice weekly for organizational reasons under the sponsorship of Mrs. Fisher. During the course of the year the members prepared for various math competitions by playing competitive math games. Field trips were scheduled for students interested in the interaction of math and computers.

Members: Tammy Lester, Dawn Ademic, Heather McGinnis, Mike Harrod, Anthony Hubbard, Thomas Fox

Computer Club

Gathering twice monthly for business meetings the Computer Club adopted a "constitution" to start its first year off on the right foot. There were fifteen qualified voting members who made decisions that affected the club, such as activities and community services.

The more interested members met in the computer room on a daily basis at lunch and after school.

Activities included individual computer programming and plans to get involved in public services such as teaching the children at New Dominion School how to use computers.

Members: Kim Murray, Laura Crowling, Robin Wilfong, Tina Cheever, Mark Miller, Eric Lake, Debbie Robinson, Daniel Perrin, Tim Miller, Lee Montgomery, Michelle Bennett.

History Club

Members: Jennifer Ruby, Sheryl Hinegardner, Duncan Chalmers, Ramberto Torruello, Alex Casteel, David Boocks, Heather Murphy, Billy Smith, Daniel Perrin

The purpose of the History Club, one of the many new clubs at O.P., is to further student's knowledge and interest in History. They were concerned with both past and present history.

The club, sponsored by Mrs. Snyder, participated in a Model United Nations, visited two embassys in Washington D.C. and hosted speakers from other countries.

The Model United Nations Organization

Members: Sheryl Hinegardner, Melissa Lanning, Jennifer Ruby, Duncan Chalmers, Alex Casteel, Romberto Torrvella, Billy Smith, David Boocks, Terry Rindal, Mrs. Snyder, Doug Slothouber, Wayne Ledford.

After many hours of research and hard work, the U.N. Club and sponsor, Mrs. Snyder attended a Model United Nation at Garfield High School. Mexico, Napal, Japan, and Uruguay were among the nations the club members represented at the meeting. The students learned much about the democratic process and the United Nations.

For participating the members received a certificate and are eagerly awaiting competition in the future.

It's Academic

The thirteen members of the It's Academic Club are hoping for "stardom" next year. Their sponsor, Mrs. Peterson, spent the first year of the club's existence preparing the members for competition for their appearance on the television program "It's Academic."

The club meetings were spent competing in two teams answering trivia questions. The subject matter included history, geography, current events, literature . . .

Matt Simmons takes a rest from the intriguing trivia at an It's Academic meeting long enough to grin.

"Okay, give me a toughie!" Marcus Gatlin is ready to answer the most difficult questions in order to increase his knowledge.

"The Future Scientists of America?"

The Science Club added to the Homecoming festivities with their float.

The Science Club was initiated at the beginning of the year due to student interest. Under the guidance of Mrs. Kircher the members became quite involved. Such questions as "How many years of college are required to become a forensics specialist" and "Can we tour a nuclear power plant?" were typical of those asked at meetings. In addition to listening to speakers and planning field trips, the members, perhaps America's future scientists, also helped to organize the school science fair.

The club's officers included President Beth Cunningham, Vice-President Bob Bogart, Secretary Caren Cloestock, treasurer Jason Janet and Science Fair Coordinator Dottie Thomas.

Jason Janet, and George Heimel.

Law Enforcement Club

Officer Greg Garrett was "very pleased" when a few students went to him interested in starting a Law Enforcement Club. President Ben Faust and Vice-President Cindy Chapman, with the help of faculty advisor Mr. Cleaves, planned field trips to visit the FBI Academy and The Adult Detention Center. "We hope to start a school Crime Solvers program to handle any small problems that arise here at OP," concluded Officer Garrett. The Law Enforcement Club's main goal is to better student knowledge of the law and its interaction in their community.

The Art Club

The Art Club, another club making its debut at OP this year was comprised of art students who desired additional time to do artwork. The members enjoyed partaking in a variety of special projects according to their individual interests. Group activities such as field trips to art museums and galleries and painting murals were planned.

Live Now

Let today be mine, for I might not see tomorrow. May I take time to live before time takes me. The silver thread of life is too fragile to forfeit today for tomorrow. No one knows how much of his life is spent; but this he knows: each day there is a little less.

As Longfellow said, "The young may die, but the old must." Thus the wisest program for living and dying is to make your plans as if you would trod the earth for a thousand years and so walk as if you would take the last step today.

Notification of Non-Discrimination

As required by Federal laws and regulations, the Virginia Department of Education does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, religion, handicapping conditions, or natural origin in employment or in its educational programs and activities. Persons who have been discriminated against may seek remediation through the regular appeal procedures.

"Insanity Kept Us Sane!"

It all began on a steamy August day as Wendy, Chrissy and Kim ventured to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania for a workshop. Four days of lectures, classes and inedible food, but we survived. We headed back to Manassas ready to go with refreshing ideas for hopefully the best yearbook ever.

The arrival of the first deadline also brought the arrival of our first panic. We thought Karen would go blind from typing. And in desperation we used "bee a member", HA! Thank God for Chrissy's house.

We became accustomed to our 98° office where "The Time" tape reverberated off the walls and friends sauntered in wanting to see pictures and if they'd be in the book. We also became accustomed to the question, "Don't you ever go to class?"

Ah, yes, and let's not forget Dempsey and Chuck — help!

The second deadline at Kim's house . . . spaghetti anyone? "Richard (our faithful sticker editor), help me with the surveys — Lassie?!" "Oh no, the mug shots are misnumbered" and the infamous "Do you have 25 kinds of delicious jelly doughnuts?"

We're sure the Foto Shop will never do business with us after we harassed them so much. "We have NO pictures!"

Chili anyone — the third deadline. "I hope these clubs spreads turn out. "Connie, your caps weren't bad, we appreciated the help — honest!"

We're sure Tom's talks will be inscribed in our memories forever.

"Kim, how's the sports copy coming?" and "Karen, ten layouts are due tomorrow!"

We know we never would have made it without our understanding and helpful adviser and friend Miss Dongoski. Well, it's all over. We all made it through the aggravations as unbelievable as it may seem. The insanity is what kept us sane. It's given us a great sense of accomplishment and now we wait in anticipation, and hope that we'll "like what we see."

Thrilled by her many layout assignments, Kari Pitkin begins to work.

Our devoted editors-in-chief Wendy Wilson and Chrissy Mitchell manage to smile even during deadline pressures.

Duncan wonders if all the work will be worth it!

Wendy and Karen try to get good radio reception in the office in order to create a better working atmosphere.

Layout Editor Karen Burke looks through old year-books for ideas.

Overwhelmed by the amount of work being done, Miss Dongoski commends the staff.

The work of a copy editor is never done . . .

We Like What We See

As the year comes to a close, our expectations seem to have been fulfilled. We have managed to prove that we can live up to our new Triple A standing by working together with dedication and loyalty. We united ourselves and have created memories and friendships that will last.

The freshmen have adapted to the "high school" atmosphere and have shed their last traces of insecurity. They now belong with the OP family and look forward to next year when they no longer will be the underdogs.

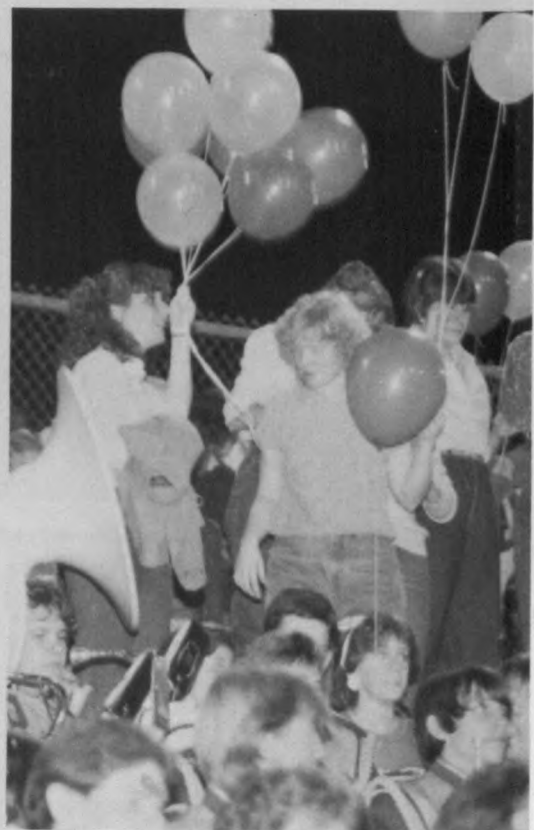

Sophomores now see themselves as upperclassmen. Thoughts of college, grades, and those wonderful SAT's begin to surface, along with those of driving to school, class rings and prom.

They've made it! Juniors have reached the top and are determined to enjoy it. Now comes the senior privileges as well as the status of being head of the school.

This was our year! The seniors will look back to 1985 and see the memories that were made. It took dedication and determination to reach this goal. The work, tests, and grades were so important as we strived to do our best. Yet, now as we look back, we don't remember the hard times. It is the friendships and the good times that we see. We've grown together and become individuals. For many, graduation will mean jobs or families. For others it will be a time for further education. We know that here is where we must part and go our separate ways, but whatever path we take there will always be those memories of Osbourn Park High School and the experiences that were shared.

For each of us this year will mean something special. Yet all of us share the knowledge that we have made Osbourn Park, for we are Osbourn Park. Our loyalty and spirit have united us all and wherever we may go or whatever we may do we'll look at Osbourn Park and ourselves and say ... We Like What We See!

Homecoming 1984. The Jacket spectators enjoy the spirited scene.

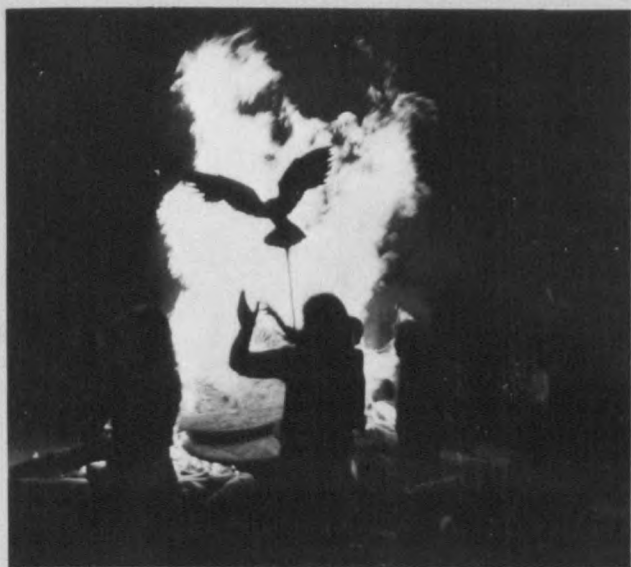

Kara Sharn reflects on her pom pom season after her final performance.
